Soon, Zendaya was on movie screens, starring in two of the biggest blockbusters of 2017! From helping to save New York City in Spider-Man: Homecoming to performing amazing circus stunts in The Greatest Showman, Zendaya showed the world what a talented adult actor she was.

In addition to acting and dancing, Zendaya was also interested in singing! She released her first single, “Swag It Out,” when she was fifteen. Her self-titled album came out in 2013.

Thanks to her hip-hop and hula lessons as a child, Zendaya had some great moves to show off in her music videos. Her dancing was so impressive she was Dancing with the Stars. She was one of the youngest contestants to ever compete on the show—and she came in second place!

Zendaya Maree Stoermer Coleman was born on September 1, 1996, in Oakland, California. Her first name is of African origin. In Shona, a language spoken in Zimbabwe, it means “to give thanks.”

Zendaya grew up in a loving home. Her parents, Claire and Kazembe, were both teachers. They taught Zendaya the importance of education.

Her big break came in 2009 when she was fourteen years old. Zendaya played the role of Rocky Blue in Disney Channel's Shake It Up. The show was about two friends working toward their dream of becoming professional dancers. Zendaya and her dad moved to Los Angeles, and she began her career as a TV star!
