LEVITATING

Just like Alice floats when she falls down, down, down you can make something float too!

What you will need:

- ✗ = Not included
- ✗ Blocks
- ✓ Magnet
- ✓ Paper clips
- ✓ Cotton thread
- ✗ Sticky tape

TEA PARTY

1

Build a bridge out of blocks, these can be lego or wooden. See the picture above.

2

Securely fasten the magnet to the underside of the bridge in the middle.

3

Cut a length of string a little bit longer than the height of the bridge and tie one end to the paper clip.

4

Hold the paper clip on the desk under the magnet and slowly bring it up to the magnet until you feel the pull from the magnet above. How does it feel now?

5

Stick the other end of the string to the desk with the sticky tape.

6

Now you have one paper clip suspended can you add others to it? Try adding more paper clips to the original one by just attaching them to it. How many can you add?

How does it work?

Magnets have a force called magnetism and they attract other metals. In this activity the paper clip is being pulled by the magnet and the magnetic force upwards and also being pulled downwards by gravity.

Where it stops and floats is where those 2 forces are balanced and equal, allowing it to stay there.
