PLANT YOUR OWN DROUGHT-RESISTANT GARDEN WITH THIS CLEVER BETH CHATTO-INSPIRED READY-MADE BORDER

For success in the garden, take Beth Chatto's lead and choose the right plants for the right place. Plants will only look fabulous and stay healthy if they're happy, so grow varieties that suit your particular conditions. This selection is perfect for a gravel garden or border in full sun, with open, free-draining soil.

39 plants for £297.61*

Our ready-made Dry Mediterranean Border can be made into a gravel garden (just finish with a mulch of gravel). Silver-leaved architectural plants and wispy evergreen grasses are contrasted with bold blue agapanthus, yellow marguerites and red-hot pokers to give structure and colour all year round. The design is for a 2.5m x 1.25m plot, but you can buy all of the plants separately, so you can adapt it to suit your space. There are also plenty of other ready-made borders to choose from at waitrose.com, for every style of garden and type of soil.

A little after-care

In a gravel garden, you can be relaxed about your plants. Try to recreate a natural and habitat and allow plants to spread, growing as and where they want. Simply replace any that become unattractive and encourage self-seeding, but keep it under control.

Keep your border looking good by pulling out weeds while they're young, and don't let invasive plants spread too freely. If you're adding annuals to the mix, let them self seed but remove the seed heads from inferior plants, or pull them up. And remember to protect your head from the sun while weeding!
