For years, Lady Gaga and Bradley Cooper mingled at many of the same Hollywood events, yet they never met. In May 2016, the actor had just signed on to direct the remake of A Star Is Born when his leading lady suddenly materialized right in front of him, on a revolving stage belting out "New York, New York." Gaga was the entertainment at the launch of the Parker Institute for Cancer Immunotherapy, performing a medley of her hits and jazz standards for the A-list crowd. Cooper had never seen her sing live before and was floored by her talent.

Judy loved the music, especially the hopeful song “Over the Rainbow.” Many people relate to Dorothy because of her bravery and her dreams for a better tomorrow. She’s so beloved that some special fans refer to themselves as Friends of Dorothy.

The Wizard of Oz premiered in 1939. The movie was a hit, and Judy was a real movie star, just as she had wanted. She was given more leading roles in the years that followed. While filming Meet Me in St. Louis, Judy fell in love with the film’s director, Vincente Minnelli. In 1945, one year after the movie came out, they got married. Soon, Judy found out she was going to have a baby!

Comfy & Cozy Autumn Trends

BY MOLLYKATE CLINE / ILLUSTRATION BY NATALIA SANABRIA

Fall is here. That means colorful leaves adorn the sidewalks, and there's a pumpkin spice latte with your name on it. Whether you're heading to a football game with your friends or going to the movies with your family, there are endless trends to pick from when choosing your favorite fall look.

All-sherpa everything, please!
Sherpa coats are at the top of my list when it comes to cozy fall favorites. They're fun to style with a ponytail or braid and your favorite pair of hoop earrings. But did you know there are also sherpa-lined jeans, jackets, hoodies, gloves and even shoes? These are great options when you need a little extra warmth.

Throw on a large flannel top to complete any fall look. Flannels can be worn oversized, tied around your waist, or as a jacket or shirt. The best part about flannels is that they're inexpensive and easy to find at thrift stores, so you can stock up on all your favorite colors! Try switching up your hairstyle each time you style a flannel. That way you can create all sorts of fun combinations.

Add a warm scarf. It's the easiest way to spice up any fall outfit if you feel like you're missing that je ne sais quoi. Scarves can be tied many different ways, but I recommend having at least one large and super warm scarf on hand for colder days. (Yes—they make sherpa scarves, too!) If you still feel like something is missing with your scarf collection, try adding a pair of tassel earrings or a matching headband.

Slide into slides with a pair of printed flats or faux fur-lined mules. These shoes are very on-trend and are great to wear before the snow starts falling. Pair with raw hem jeans, or even a maxi skirt for a dressier look.

There's more than denim when it comes to finding the perfect pair of pants to wear with your favorite sweater. We oftentimes associate comfy pant options with leggings, joggers and sweatpants. But if you're looking for comfort other than your favorite jeans, consider an option like culottes, wide-leg palazzo or high-rise paper bag pants. These are lightweight, comfortable and still very stylish. If you're shopping online, instead of clicking on "jeans" or "leggings & sweatpants," just click "pants" or "other bottoms."

Cozy up in a cardigan as you work on homework or grab coffee with friends. Cardigans are an autumn favorite because they feel like home, and they make great layering pieces. Look for neutral colors such as gray, tan, white or black to match with many different outfits.
