11/12. As Tiger walked into this exciting place,
You should have seen the look on his face
All you could see was the mightiest grin
And he danced and he danced as the music kicked in

You see the fear disappears at exactly the minute that you take the leap of faith and get in it to win it And life is for living and never for lack You must go for your dreams and never look back.

21/22. the crowd went crazy and all screamed out loud and panda and Tiger were ever so proud they had both stepped out of their comfort zone They had learnt so much and how they had grown but most of all they had so much fun and it was time to see if they had won
